Have You Drafted a Will or Living Trust?

Did you know that the state in which you live has already written a will for you?

However, the state does not know your wishes or desires. The will you write would supercede the state’s will if up-to-date and properly written.

If you have questions, ask your attorney to explain to you what kind of will the state has already written for you. You will learn that:

- (1) The state’s will makes no provision for certain loved ones in the special way you want.
- (2) There are no provisions for gifts to your favorite mission or charity, or for your home congregation.
- (3) There is no provision for helping to spread God’s Word in the unique way that LFL does.

A representative of Lutherans For Life would be glad to talk with you about making provision for LFL in your estate plan. Call 888.364.LIFE (5433) or 515.382.2077 or e-mail info@lutheransforlife.org.

He will be happy to discuss how you can accomplish personal and family goals through:

- Special Tax-Qualified Trusts (Planned Gifts)
- Charitable Gift Annuities (Life-Income Agreements)
- Endowments and Memorial Plans
- and other individual plans.
