Canada Reports Nearly 2,000 Assisted Deaths in First Year of Legalization – Data from Health Canada on assisted dying reveals 1,982 assisted deaths occurred in the first year since its legalization. The report shows between June 17, 2016, and June 30, 2017, a total of 1,977 euthanasia deaths and five reported assisted-suicide deaths took place. In addition, 167 reported euthanasia deaths took place in Quebec before the federal government legalized assisted death. The total number of Canadian assisted deaths as of the end of June stands at 2,149. In the first six months since its legalization, 803 Canadians died by assisted death; in the second month, 1,179 died. This means an increase of nearly 47 percent from the first half of the year to the second. Overall, 0.9 percent of all deaths in Canada from January to June were doctor-assisted suicides. The majority of patients (63 percent) had cancer, followed by neuro-degenerative disorders and respiratory and circulatory failures. Most were between 56 and 64 years at the time of death. Alex Schadenberg of the Euthanasia Prevention Coalition points out the lack of oversight of the law since the government's self-reporting system allows the same doctor carrying out the death to also report it. As such, he feels it is possible that under-reporting and abuse of the law occurs. (LifeSiteNews.com, 10/10/17; CLR LifeWire, 10/12/17)

Speaking Up For Life

“People do not like to face the fact that their soul will live on in eternity. We need time to be alone with God, to hear His Word, to read it every day, and to pray to Him. This is where we get food for our soul. We need to sit as a family and let God feed us with His Word, have our devotion, and pray together.” Rev. Homer Larsen, Christian Crusader radio program

“The Apostle Paul seemed to have thought that giving thanks was front and center in the life of the Christian: ‘Give thanks in all things’ (1 Thessalonians 5:18), ‘Always and for everything giving thanks’ (Ephesians 5:20), ‘In everything by prayer ... with thanksgiving’ (Philippians 4:6), ‘And be thankful ... with thankfulness in your heart toward God ... do everything ... giving thanks to God the Father’ (Colossians 3:15-17), ‘Continue steadfastly in prayer, with thanksgiving’ (Colossians 4:2).” James M. Kushiner, The Fellowship of St. James

“[A]fter our nation has celebrated Thanksgiving, I encourage God’s people to continue with a thankful spirit. We who have heard the angels tell of God’s Good News of great joy ought to be rejoicing. We who have seen the fires of hell and know we don’t have to go there should continuously praise God Who sent His Son to give His life so we might have eternal life. Indeed, for us, contentment and thanksgiving ought to be our regular fare.” Rev. Ken Klaus, Speaker Emeritus of “The Lutheran Hour”
